DIVER ATTACKS U. S. WARSHIP

Teutons Crushed Under Blows of 3 Million Allies

5 GERMAN KEY FORTS PERILED IN BIGGEST BATTLE OF HISTORY

LONDON, April 17.—Five key points to the much-vaunted Hindenburg line were struck at so savagely by the great Franco-British drive today that their continuation in the enemy's hands much longer seems impossible.

Of the five, Lens, La Fere and St. Quentin may fall to the allied onslaught at almost any hour. Cambrai and Laon are less closely enveloped, but the menace of the drive was none the less potent.

General Haig's report today told of another successful thrust to the south of Cambrai, around Epehy, aimed at Le Catelet, eleven miles south of Cambrai.

The Paris official statement more than confirmed the most sanguine hopes of success in the joint offensive undertaken here.

General Nivelle reported a desperate German attempt at Ailles to stem the French forward rush at Laon. Ailles lies just seven miles to the south of Laon. The counter attack was repulsed by the French.

Again, General Nivelle's forces withstood another powerful German counter attack at Gourey, four miles north of Rheims. It is in these two sections, apparently, that the French wedge has been thrust farthest forward against the German lines.

Unofficial battle front dispatches received here today declared the German defenses were tremendous in opposing the French offensive.

The Soissons-to-Rheims battle front selected by the French staff as the spot in which to strike is ideal for offensive fighting. It is a slightly rolling country, permitting the operation of vast forces and sufficiently clear to enable best maneuvering. Moreover, aside from the favorable nature of the country itself, the spot is strategically well situated, since every blow there is a jar to the German line northwest to the channel. The German line makes a vast blunt angle around Le Fere, heading on an almost straight line around to Verdun. The base of this angle—the new Hindenburg line—is Laon. The French blow is directly against this point.

LONDON, April 17.—The greatest offensive of the greatest of wars was on today. Over a front of nearly 170 miles Franco-British forces were driving with all the strength of energy carefully conserved through months of winter preparation. Forecast through four days of tremendous artillery concentration, the French movement began with a brilliant victory, despite the most desperate resistance from the German defenders.

Laon, one of the most important of the center supply stations on the Germans' line, is now added to the list of German key points directly menaced by the French-British attack. It was apparently the direct object of the first smash with which General Nivelle threw his massed forces against the enemy. That tremendous blow swept the Germans off their feet, forced them back of third trenches, inflicted devastating losses on the defending Teutons and so firmly established the French attacking forces that hurriedly summoned German counter-attacks could not dislodge them from the ground they gained.

London was thrilled today with the actual start of the greatest of offensives—the forward thrust for which every man, woman and child in the British Empire has been working and sacrificing for the past six months. At least 3,000,000 of France's and England's best troops are probably fighting along this gigantic front. More guns than the world has ever known before in one operation are belching forth death over this stretch of 170 miles.

Famous Aisne Line
It was along the famous "Aisne line," that the French made their advances in their first blows struck by General Nivelle. It was here that the Germans stood firm after the retreat following the battle of the Marne.

The point of Nivelle's wedge was pushed into the German line at a point about midway between Soissons and Rheims, with another smashing blow struck coincidentally around Berry au Bac, where the German line turns and twists around Rheims. Ten thousand prisoners and a great quantity of supplies captured attested the irresistible force of these two great blows.

Meantime, the British forces have not stopped the force of their own drive. Like a skillful boxer, General

KAISER TO TELL TERMS, REPORT

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD (United Press Staff Correspondent)
CHRISTIANIA, April 17.—Germany is shortly to issue to neutrals a statement of the terms on which she considers peace negotiable, according to rumors in diplomatic circles today.

The reports came from sources known to be closely identified with the German officials' plans.

Those closest in touch with the German movement here had not heard of any details of what Germany proposes to offer. They did not believe, however, that there would be many concessions from the unofficial, but highly inspired, outlines of Germany's demands given out both at Washington and in Germany at the time of Von Bethmann-Hollweg's famous peace letter last December.

DISHON ADMITS PASSED BOGUS GOLD PIECES IN S. A.

City Marshal Jernigan Asked to Secure As Many Pieces
As Possible

Chas. Dishon is the name of the man who operated in this city a week ago last Saturday, leaving a number of $5 gold pieces with local people, which he exchanged for good coin of the realm.

He passed a bogus piece on Earl Matthews, of the Orange County Ignition Works, and fell down in an attempt to slip one over on Clerk Pearson at the Mercereau grocery of West Fifth street.

After his departure, a number of the bad coins showed up at different banks in the city. Dishon was arrested recently and is now in Los Angeles. He has confessed to officers there that he passed a number of pieces here.

When he was arrested a young man in his company was also detained. Officers as yet have been unable to attach anything to the young man. City Marshal Jernigan has been asked to make an investigation here and secure as many of the coins as possible, and get whatever information is obtainable on Dishon's companion.

THE GROWING GIRL

A girl when in her teens is passing through a critical period of her life. The transition from childhood to maturity is not always easy; consequently, in many cases health breaks down entirely and the girl goes into a decline and dies young. If she escapes this fate, she may fall into a state of permanent ill-health. It is of the utmost importance, in order to insure normal and healthy development, that proper precautions be taken, and nothing has proved more helpful than the faithful use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the great woman's medicine and tonic.—Adv.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid
Exposure and Eat
Less Meat

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is excreted in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinges of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent, lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.—Advertisement.

FIRE ENGINEER WILL TELL HOW TO PREVENT LOSSES

Fire Prevention to Be Subject of Talk At C. of C. Luncheon
Tomorrow

An element of destruction that consumes annually in the United States property values equivalent to those of one-half the new buildings erected every year, will be the topic of discussion by an expert at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon at James' tomorrow. A fire drill on Fourth, between Sycamore and Broadway will be given by the fire department just before noon. Three or four lines of hose will be seen and ladder work will be done.

Tomorrow is Fire Prevention Day in California, officially recognized in the state by proclamation of the governor. A combination of co-incidents brings fire and its prevention before the luncheon tomorrow. John McFadden, chairman, is a fire insurance agent, and the eleventh anniversary of the earthquake and fire at San Francisco is tomorrow. The anniversary suggested the discussion and it is most appropriate considering the vocation of the chairman of the luncheon. The local club of insurance agents has gotten behind McFadden and are boosting for the meeting and has assisted in making arrangements for the speaker.

O. W. Bryant, engineer of the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific, is the man who will talk tomorrow. He comes from Los Angeles and is a splendid speaker. He will talk on fire prevention, outlining many ways in which the private citizens can assist in preventing fires and keeping down fire losses.

Few people, perhaps, realize fully the enormous destruction of property every year by fire. Loss in the United States is about 600 per cent greater than it is in European countries. The normal loss in this country annually is $2 per person, against 33 cents in European countries.

The value of buildings destroyed is equal to half the value of new structures erected every year. The big San Francisco disaster, which started on April 18, 1906, burned over 231 acres, wiping out 25,000 buildings located on 520 blocks and causing a money loss of $350,000,000.

The total loss in the United States by fire in 1906 was $20,000,000, which amount was in excess of the entire wheat crop.

THIS AFTERNOON TO ORGANIZE COMPANY

High School Cadets Are Going to Drill Without Guns Or Uniforms

The committee appointed to arrange for voluntary military training in the high school found that arms could not be secured, and that it was not worth while for the men to buy uniforms.

The chairman of the committee, Tom Robertson, announced that companies would be organized tonight after school. The meeting will be held in the bleachers. It was definitely decided to form a night company, there being thirty-five men desiring it. The company drilling at night will be made to use the local armory for drill purposes. As army rifles cannot be secured, wooden staffs will be used for drill purposes, and efforts will be made to secure rifles from the rifle club to be used for target practice.

Felton Browning moved that the company be organized independently, and the motion was carried unanimously. Principal D. K. Hammond will appoint an executive committee of three members to attend to small matters, which are bound to arise. The officers of the company will probably be elected within the next month.

Mr. Hammond made a proposition whereby the company could drill in the morning between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock. The class schedules would be altered, and school would dismiss at the regular time. He will put the proposition up to the faculty at a meeting called for this afternoon. The boys were entirely in favor of this plan, especially when they found that school hours would not be lengthened. Further announcement will be made of the result of the faculty meeting this afternoon.

Mr. Hammond also recommends that all boys not having regular employment should plant vacant lots in the city to potatoes or other foods.

Donald Stevenson of the Junior College, made the announcement that the college would hold a debate next Friday evening, debating against a freshman team of the University of Southern California. The question will be: "Resolved, that the Government of the United States should take over all munition factories."

The local college will uphold the negative side of the question.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

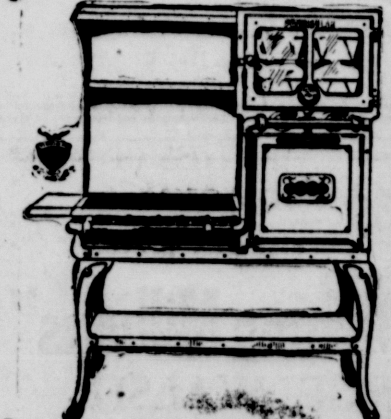

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

the whole of Chautauqua week. The only provision that goes with the reservation is that the holder of the seat is supposed to be in his seat within fifteen minutes after the regular Chautauqua program starts. If the seat is not taken by that time the ushers will be justified in concluding that the seat will not be used that night by the one who reserved it.

Student Tickets

The price fixed for student season tickets is $1, and there is today a sale of tickets being made in the schools. No reservations, however, are being made today. The reason for the advance sale in the schools is that the committee wanted assurance that the student tickets were going to students and no one else.

The student tickets may be presented at the office tomorrow morning or any time thereafter and reservations can then be made. A student may take the ticket he bought today and it may be presented for reservation along with the tickets that will be bought for the rest of the faculty.

Purely Co-operative
It should be positively understood that the Chautauqua is a purely co-operative proposition. No local men are making money out of it for themselves. The guarantors are serving without pay. Col. Finley will handle the ticket selling without pay.

There is no question but that the program this year is the best ever put on by the Chautauqua. Numerous noted lecturers, musicians and entertainers are included on the program.

Missouri; Fort Worth, Austin, and San Antonio, Texas; Clovis, Albuquerque and Santa Fe, New Mexico; Phoenix and Prescott, Arizona; Los Angeles and San Francisco, California. At the latter city the two teams will meet and the six national speakers will unite in a great conference and a stirring mass meeting—a fitting climax to the transcontinental tour of more than four weeks, reaching sixteen states.

The division following the southern route will be led by Anna A. Gordon, the National President—well beloved and honored by her great constituency and whose delightful personality and kindness endear her to all. Miss Gordon will be accompanied by Mrs. Florence E. Atkins of Georgia, everywhere recognized as a forceful speaker of the distinctly southern type. Mary Frances Willard Anderson of Massachusetts, national secretary of the Young People's Branch, a graduate of the Boston School of Expression, and known as the "live wire Scotch lassie" of the Y. P. B. It is expected that the state W. C. T. U. officers and civic celebrities will meet the parties and join in the banquets, parades, conferences, etc., which will be arranged at each stopping place.

SPLENDID SERMON IS PREACHED ON "BESETTING SIN"

One of the most powerful of the sermons yet preached by Evangelist Fred H. Ross at the First Methodist church was that last evening on "The Besetting Sin." It was powerful, more perhaps, in that it touched everybody who heard it.

The text was taken from the twelfth chapter of Hebrew in the verse which says "the sin which doth so easily beset us." So many sins beset those running in the race, so that instead of running they seem to be crawling. As an old writer has said, "the besetting sin troubles us most when we are in trouble, it is the one our minds dwell most on, the one for which we make the most excuses, leads us captive and the one above all others

Rev. Ross followed with a brief list of the besetting sins and the trouble and grief they make in their various phases. These were pride, sensitiveness, covetousness, anger and self will, which turn us inward and hinder us through life.

During the evening, C. H. Fowler, beautifully sang, "It Shall Be Mine." Tomorrow evening, the leadership of the meeting will be in the hands of the Men's Brotherhood and its president, Mr. Michelson and the pastor, Dr. H. W. Peck, urged that each man bring six other men, and strangers were especially invited.

YORBA LINDA HOUSE BURNED DURING NIGHT

Last night about 1 o'clock a small one-story frame dwelling at Yorba Linda was burned. Its contents were destroyed, making a total loss of about $1000. The house was owned by Mrs. Bohannon and was occupied by C. E. Tower. About midnight Tower was awakened, and hearing the crackling of flames, opened the door into the kitchen. He was driven back by a burst of flame. No one knows how the fire started.

BLIND WOMAN WILL LECTURE

A most interesting meeting is anticipated for the Civics Club on Saturday afternoon, April 21st, when Miss Kate Foley, home teacher for the blind for the State Library in Sacramento, herself entirely blind, will speak at the Congregational church on work and opportunities for the blind.

In Santa Ana are several adult blind and probably there are more blind people in Orange county than is realized. Books in raised type in various systems are offered to the blind by the State Library and are mailed for their use to any part of the state. Also, in Berkeley there is a school for the blind in which vocational work and general educational study is offered.

Within recent years there has been a wonderful development in the opportunities for the blind. In New York City not only have blind pupils become skillful telephone operators, typewriters, piano tuners, and music teachers, but they have also done creditable work as barbers and in massage and many other lines of activity. The Light House, as the New York Association for the blind is called, has been a pioneer in advanced work for the blind.

Miss Foley, who comes with her guide to lecture here under the auspices of the Woman's Civic Club, will present a subject that is of human interest and important to Santa Ana.

GUN FLASHES IN GAMBLING ROW

ANAHEIM, April 17.—Some of the foreign residents of Anaheim had a little Armageddon of their own, resulting in no casualties, however, owing to prompt action by the police.

Three Korean visitors from the sugar factory were walking down West Charters when they claim a venerable Chinaman, resembling Confucius, invited them in to enjoy a quiet game of fan-tan, at about $75 per.

One Sycheun played. He said the dealer took his losses right along, but failed to come across with $250 winnings.

A gentle row then ensued, during which the outer guard struck at him with a hatchet, slightly wounding him near the eye, and the inner guard, John Huig, forced all three to leave at the point of a nice, new Colt's .38, fully loaded.

In court the gambling was admitted by all. Sycheun wanted the court to collect his fine of $25 out of the winnings the Chinaman had not paid. Nothing stirring, so the victim parted with the coin. John Huig, having confessed to running a gambling joint, paid $100 and his gun was confiscated for the protection of the court.

THE CHAUTAUQUA

Santa Ana is going to have a splendid Chautauqua this year. None who has examined the program even hastily can doubt the assertion. Through the success of last year's venture, the Chautauqua became assured of a second year's program in Santa Ana, and there is now every indication that the 1917 Chautauqua will be so good and so successful that it will become a permanent institution in this city.

The experiences of last year have been useful in arranging this year's Chautauqua, and some of the inconveniences that marked last year's gathering will not exist this year. The sale of reserved seats, which starts tomorrow, will do away with some of the troubles that beset the seating committee of the last Chautauqua. The tent is going to be larger than last year and is especially designed for Chautauqua work.

With William Jennings Bryan and "Little Women" and "Pinafore" as the headlines for the Chautauqua, it is not expected that the local guarantors are going to have any trouble in selling season tickets.

The Chautauqua has become a community affair. It deserves support upon that ground, but it is making, but one appeal, and that appeal is: "It is worth many times the price."

THE BIGGEST AUDIENCE

It is questionable whether any utterance in the history of the world ever reached so many hearers as President Wilson's war address to Congress on April 2. It is only in recent years, of course, that the means of communication have given any man a great audience of contemporaries. Public statements of various statesmen since the war began have gained great circulation, but neither Kaiser nor Czar nor Lloyd George seems to have reached, at any time, half so many people as has the President of the United States in his address committing this nation to war.

The publicity of his words received at the time of their delivery was world-wide. They passed naturally through all the channels of national and international communication. Newspapers in every city and every land printed at least the gist of his remarks and some of his most telling sentences. But that was only a beginning. For every hearer that speech found on the day of its delivery, or the day after, it has found a hundred since, and the number is rolling up steadily by the millions, as people everywhere realize its significance.

In France and Italy it has been accorded a unique honor. The governments have ordered it printed in full and posted on all public billboards throughout the country. In France the minister of public instruction has gone further, ordering that it shall be read in every school, lyceum and college. It appears that the speech will actually be read by, or read to, the entire French nation.

By this time it has reached virtually the whole Italian nation, all the English-speaking people in the world, and all the intelligent folk of all lands. It may be no exaggeration to say that already that address has been heard by a world-audience of 1,000,000,000 people.

It was a great occasion, and the President rose to it nobly. There will be other such opportunities hereafter. The world is all one now, and any man can gain whatever hearing his position and ability justify.

THE GIFT OF SILENCE

The very greatest emphasis is placed on education in speech. Our schools spend their millions to teach young people how to talk intelligently and effectively. Ability to express oneself is considered one of the greatest arts of life. And yet there are many people who know how to express themselves far too well, and whose principal need is to learn to keep their mouths shut.

For instance, a friend who had a trained nurse in his family was telling about her peculiarities. She was wonderfully skilled in her profession, watchful, indefatigable and energetic. Yet she wearied the patients during their convalescence and exhausted the family by her endless accounts of her own experiences and her personal views about life.

The practical result was that other nurses were frequently given the reference. Glib habits of speech proved to be a business handicap.

Business offices and workshops are full of just such cases. There are people whose power of speech is perfectly irrepressible. They are so friendly and helpful in many ways that you cannot seem to get along without them. At the same time they distract the attention of their fellow workmen, and are so much absorbed in self-expression as to reduce their own output of work. The practical result in their case is that they finally lose positions or are kept along at reduced salaries.

Business offices and workshops are what their name implies, and are not social centers. People with conversational gifts can find plenty of outlet for the same in club, lodge and society life. They need to cultivate that subtle sense of their surroundings that will teach them when to speak and when to keep silent.

Why We Like Dogs

Perhaps to recall an epitaph written by Lord Byron, and to consider how well it would have belittled countless canine comrades, would be to show why men are fond of dogs. Incidentally it explains the prejudice against the brutal proposition that dogs be turned over to medical students intent upon learning in just how many ways a dumb creature may be tortured and survive. The epitaph follows:

Near this spot
Are deposited the remains of one
Who possessed Beauty without Vanity,
Strength without Insolence,
Courage without Ferocity,
And all the Virtues of Man without His Vices.

This praise, which would be unmeaning Flattery

If inscribed over human ashes,

Is but a just tribute to the Memory

Of a Dog.

Who was born at Newfoundland,

May, 1803,

And died at Newstead Abbey,

November 18, 1808.

No legislator ever will win an epitaph approaching this if he expresses the quality of his soul by voting dogs into a chamber of horrors.

Fashions

There is a little dressmaker who has done harm beyond all estimate by the creation of grotesque styles which, for some reason never explained, the feminine mind conceives as proper to be followed.

When one looks at a fashion of this woman's devising it is impossible not to marvel that she was of the number permitted to escape from the Titanic. At least, the close shave she had on that occasion ought to have reformed her.

A Fable

It befell that a burglar knew where was a store of great treasure, and he longed to get his paws upon the same. Too timidous to act alone, he sent trusted messengers to others whom he suspected of burglarious intent, saying to them: "Behold, there is treasure enough for all and in numbers there is strength. Let us jimmie into the strong box together and thereafter make such a split as shall satisfy our ambitions. First will we bind the storekeeper, or cave in his coco, according as may seem best."

But the messenger fell among those who coaxed his secrets from him, and who laid the matter before the storekeeper, who, being greatly wroth, reached for the old hoss pistol and got busy.

Then was the burglar sad that so fine a plan had gone to the bowwows, and, tearing his hair, exclaimed: "Alas, that among men there should be no honor."

Silence in Milwaukee

Milwaukee is making a war on useless noise.

Unhappily the inhibition is not effective on the legislative noises made in Washington by certain members elected from the beer belt.

Like 'Em Dry

Circus men are said to prefer to show in a dry town, declaring that they get more money there.

Moreover, in a dry town there is less likelihood of having to yell "Hey, Rub!" and lick a lot of the village cutups with tent stakes.

Many Thanks

"The emergency confronting this country is the gravest in our history. The Hearst papers intend to meet it by swinging solidly behind the government."

Better late than never.

The Girl of Thirteen

Not long ago a girl of thirteen jumped from a third story window rather than submit to a spanking. She broke a leg and experienced other incidental discomforts, but kept her spunk, declaring that she would jump again rather than submit to the proposed indignity.

It is to be hoped that while she is healing, the parental desire to administer a spanking will be softened to some more creditable emotion.

A mother who spans a girl of thirteen is running the risk of incurring the permanent loss of the child's affection and of creating an abiding memory of bitterness. The mother who can't control a girl of thirteen without spanking her can't control her in any way, and better give the job over to competent hands.

Congratulates San Bernardino

Riverside Enterprise

San Bernardino proved itself to be a real big brother. The city of Colton had promised the other city that it would go dry if San Bernardino should vote that way. This encouraged the advocates of temperance to work untiringly for the cleaning up of the saloon evil in San Bernardino. The campaign has been an active one and well managed. The results as announced indicate that San Bernardino has taken its place among the great temperance communities of Southern California. It will be ready for the greater growth that always comes as a result of arousing the public consciousness. San Bernardino with its fine pay rolls and its sound business interests, will benefit materially when it loses its saloons. It will receive just as much money as it has before

RURUP SELLS RANCH IN ARIZONA AT ADVANCE

Ernest G. Rurup of West Orange, and former owner of a drug store at Orange, returned Sunday evening from Mesa, Ariz., where he closed the sale of his ranch of 180 acres secured in a three-cornered deal when he disposed of his drug store. Rurup sold the acreage to Henry H. Reya of Pittsburgh. Reya is president of the Pennsylvania Central railroad and has large mining interests in Arizona.

The Goodyear Rubber Company has recently acquired holdings in the vicinity of the property held by Rurup and the activities of this large concern there has had the effect of advancing the values of land and Rurup sold out at a figure giving him a profit of around $35 per acre.

SPORTS

By H. C. Hamilton

NEW YORK, April 17.—Ad Wolgast, once king of the type of fighters who threw caution to the winds and dashed in to win, is positively through as an athlete. He has even been adjudged incompetent to look after his own affairs and his wife has been given charge of his property.

Underlying this statement from Wisconsin there is a lesson for any budding fighter, and one which many now appearing in rings would do well to take to heart.

It is impossible for a man to take the terrible beatings around his head and continue just the same as he always did. He can't stand the terrific body lacerations that are handed out to the man who dares to protect himself in the hope of landing while the other man is doing the same.

There have been many fighters who were willing to stand toe to toe with the best of them and slug until something dropped. The beatings they received and bodies receive is something to marvel at. Cauliflower ears, broken noses, bruised cheeks, and many other marks are carried by these men to their graves. A glance at Wolgast's head is enough to show what he has gone through.

Battling Nelson is another example of the courageous fighter who put everything out of his mind but victory. He could take an awful beating and he often did it, just in the hope that eventually the time would come for him to land one of the crushing blows that wore his opponent down.

The battle between Nelson and Wolgast when the latter won the championship was one of these savage affairs, where both boxers, bruised and bleeding and barely able to stand, were both in a pitiful condition at the end of the fight. It was bull-dog against bull-dog and the younger bull-dog won.

Nelson lives today an example of what can be done with a pair of hands beating on a man's head. His ears are mashed, his nose askew and he bears many other battle marks.

The bout between Battling Nelson and Joe Gans, when the black lightweight relinquished the title of lightweight champion, is believed by many to have sent Gans to his grave. He was forced to make a killing weight when he met Nelson and the beating Nelson gave him put him on his back. He waned away fast and finally died, a victim of tuberculosis, ascribed by many critics as due to weakness after his beating at the hands of Nelson.

The men who stood out in the game as masters have learned better than to stand still and allow their opponents to hammer them about the ring. Mike Gibbons has a mashed ear and a broken nose, but he long ago learned the fine art of hitting and getting away, and, as a consequence, his marks are old ones. Gibbons never was given a bad beating about the head.

Wolgast made the mistake of thinking he always could absorb punishment. He fought and fought until the break came. Packey McFarland, one of the cleverest men who ever stepped into a ring, realized when the end of his string came that he was going to get some beatings if he continued, so he stepped into private life. He carried no mashed features with him.

Had Wolgast stopped his ring career after one or two attempts to regain the championship he lost to Willie Ritchie it is probable he never would have been examined and sent to a sanitarium.

It is a lesson, hard-earned, maybe, but one that should sink deep into every young boxer's mind. The game, in this case, especially, is not worth the candle. It never can be. A man's health is worth a dozen championships, as Wolgast, Nelson and some of the others of the shock-absorber class could testify.

ENGLAND CAN'T 'SEE' SPRING UNTIL ZEPPELS BEGIN THEIR RAIDS

LONDON, April 1 (by mail).—Springtime has many harbingers in many lands. The robin and the crocus tell New England. New York relies on Bock Beer signs. The South has its mint-julep and the North its eucalyptus and camphor. But you can't persuade people over here to shake red flannels and the bottle of Spring Tonic, until "the Zepps come out."

Almost on the date the Farmers' Almanac set for Spring to commence, the Kaiser sent England his official notification. The year's first "strafing" occurred on the day the proverbial lion starts swapping his roar and mane for wool and a bleat.

Zeppelins can't stand cold weather. They're very particular anyway—demanding pitch-black, partly-cloudy, calm, dry nights, with whatever wind there is blowing from the East. But as Winter, R. I. holds away over the British Isles, there's no danger of a raid. However, when the days get longer and the evenings balmy, England generally looks to the skies for the almost always (laughingly) infelical leaden shower that brings the first tidings of Spring in London.

Miss Luella McGaughey Tells
Of China to the First
Section Ebell

Travel Section No. 2 met with Mrs. C. E. Lamme on Monday afternoon. First came the business meeting which resulted in the election of new officers as follows: Mrs. J. R. Medlock, president; Mrs. J. E. Paul, vice-president; Mrs. J. B. Bartholomew, secretary; and Mrs. J. W. Blee, treasurer. The members of the club realized they had in store another treat in the selection of those who were in charge of the program.

Mrs. Louis Moulton introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Miss Luella McGaughey, who came to tell of China, its cities and its people. Her beautiful collection of embroideries and curios was wonderful and so interested in her subject was she that Miss McGaughey charmed her listeners and made them wish to some day visit this wonderful old country.

Miss Blanche Dolph gave a Chinese air on the cornet, accompanying herself with one hand on the piano. Mrs. A. J. Lawton read an interesting paper on the music of China, which added a pleasing variation to the program of the afternoon.

Mrs. Lamme, assisted by her son and Mrs. C. A. Bach, served refreshments, which may have had for name something Chinese, but which tasted deliciously American, accompanied by ice cream, cake and tea.

Twenty members responded to roll call.

Honored Guests At Hard Times Patriotic Social

A very pleasant hard-times patriotic social was given by the Knights of the Maccabees last evening, the members of the Women's Benefit Association of the Maccabees, being especially invited guests. About ninety were present to enjoy the pleasures planned.

Dancing and progressive whist were the diversions, the prizes, a box of stationery embossed with an American flag going to Mrs. Will Houston and a large American flag to Harry Opp as first prizes, while small flag pins went to Mrs. G. E. Peters and Sir Knight Schroeder as consolation trophies.

Foster's orchestra played for the dancing and late in the evening a bounteous collation of sandwiches, perfect salad, olives, coffee and cake was served and all voted the entertainment a complete success.

Delightful Meeting Hermosa
Chapter, O. E. S. Was Well Attended

About 200 members of the Eastern Star were in attendance last night at a delightful meeting of Hermosa Chapter, the evening's entertainment being in charge of the Past Matrons Association.

There are nine Chapters in the seventeenth district, including Orange, Fullerton, Anaheim, Yorba Linda, Norwalk, Downey, Artesia, Buena Park and Santa Ana, and the honored guests were the matrons and patrons from these chapters. They were escorted in with honors and seated in the east. Miss Bessie Pendleton, district Deputy Grand Matron was also present.

Following a brief business meeting, the Past Matrons of Santa Ana filed in with an escort of honor and were greeted with an ovation upon their entrance. Miss Pauline Reinhaus, the retiring president of the association, presided during the program.

Mrs. J. R. Medlock gave a very charming address of welcome and the gem of the evening's entertainment were the four selections given by the quartet, composed of Mmes. T. A. Winbiger, J. S. Perry, O. M. Robbins and W. L. Tubbs. Mrs. H. Clay Kellogg pleased the audience with two readings and the company standing sang "America."

The large assemblage then ascended to the banquet room, which was gay with flags, with the colors of the association, white and green, used to brighten the long tables, where delectable refreshments were served.

Mrs. H. Clay Kellogg, the Matron of Hermosa Chapter, gracefully acted as toastmistress and the visiting matrons and patrons responded with clever toasts.

PREACHERS' PROBLEM

Present Day Club Hears Minister
"Unbosom" Himself
Last Evening

"The Problems of the Preacher" was most interestingly discussed by the Rev. J. A. Stevenson of the First Presbyterian Church at the regular monthly meeting of the Present Day Club last evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Crookshank. The address was of the nature of an informal talk in which the speaker took his hearers into his confidence and "unbosomed" himself.

"I like my job," declared Mr. Stevenson. "Its problems are not things to be discouraged over, but magnificent opportunities for work and service. Of all the men who pity themselves, I think the minister who pities himself is the worst. He needs a vacation."

In making preparation for the talk, the speaker had put to a number of laymen the question, "What do you consider to be the greatest problem of the preacher?" One answered, "I believe that one of the biggest problems is just to live normally, just to feel free to be oneself." Another replied, "My observation is that the biggest problem is to get stopped. The average sermon offers several good places to stop, and the preacher never seems to avail himself of them." Another said he thought the greatest problem of the preacher was the art of getting along with people. The serious problem was one of friction. Another ventured the opinion that the big problem was to live like a Christian gentleman, that the big thing is not what the preacher says, nor his administrative ability, but the accumulated force of a life lived like a Christian gentleman.

"In my opinion," said the speaker, the greatest problem is purely personal. It is to keep spiritually attuned, to escape the curse of mere professionalism, to keep in fellowship with God."

Speaking more specifically, Mr. Stevenson pointed out the following problems which every preacher has to meet:

(1) The intellectual problem. The preacher is primarily a man with a message. Everything else is secondary to this. Hence he must find time to be a student, and this is not always easy in view of the demands upon his time along the line of practical affairs and details of pastoral work. His telephone is always ringing. There is no more taxing demand upon the life of a minister than that of conducting funerals, going into the homes of people in times of sorrow. Under this pressure of practical things the temptation is to neglect systematic study. The besetting sin is likely to be intellectual sluggishness. To be a preacher today demands keen intellectual thought. Some preachers are unwilling to have blisters on their brains—to study hard. Some one has defined a rut as a grave with the end knocked out. The preacher must have that intellectual ability that will enable him to interpret truth, to study old truth in the language of today. The question is not whether the message is old or new, but whether it is true.

(2) The second problem is that of interest, how to get your message heard. An undelivered telegram is of no value. The old question was "Is he orthodox?" Now the question is "Will he draw?"—he must be like a porous plaster. If he is to compete with the electric cars he must be a dynamo; if he competes with the auto he must go; if he competes with the moving picture he must be picturesque and entertaining. If the preacher succeeds in making his congregation laugh and cry and think, they will come back to hear him. How can he compete with all these outside attractions? There is only one way. He must have an interesting message, interestingly presented.

(3) Another problem is to inspire; to make bad men good, and good men better. How can a preacher move these human wills to give up the habits of a lifetime? How induce them to battle against the tide, to present visions that make them conquerors? This is no easy problem.

(4) The last problem is that of applying the principles of the gospel to all of the complex affairs of present-day life, to unite worship and work, to harness Christian intellects and emotions to the problems of living, to create a social conscience and direct social evolution; not how to die as individuals, but how to live as members of society. It is no value to get up a big head of steam unless you run a train. You cannot run a train apart from steam.

There has been a tremendous change of emphasis in recent years. The old emphasis was upon individual piety and uprightness; now the emphasis has shifted to a social program. It is a real art to understand the principles of the gospel and apply those principles to the problems of today.

I have stated these as the problems of the preacher. They are after all the problems of humanity—your problems. It involves the responsibility of the sympathetic co-operation in the big, ever conceived, viz., that of bringing this world into harmony with God.

Following the talk, the meeting was thrown open to discussion. Prof. Cranston as chairman announced that this was "preachers' night," and the first opportunity would be given to the members of the clerical profession. Rev. N. A. Baker of the Unitarian church; Rev. P. P. Schrock of the Congregational, and Rev. J. G. Kennedy of the United Presbyterian, responded, giving their ideas as to the problems of the preacher and the way to meet them. Following these "gentlemen of the cloth" a number of laymen took part among them S. M. Davis, A. W. Rutan, Prof. W. C. Roberts, Prof. Cranston, Mrs. A. J. Crookshank. The meeting closed with a rebuttal from the speaker of the evening.

The meeting opened with a well rendered instrumental selection by Harold Albright.

The following new members were admitted to membership: Dr. and Mrs. L. L. West, Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Cushman and Miss Mary Toney.

Heard of Bohemia
The First Ebell Travellers met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. M. Sprout on South Broadway. Interesting plans were discussed for a picnic which the Travellers and their husbands will enjoy at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bristol at Owensmouth on the 7th of May.

At yesterday's meeting there was presented an appeal for membership in the Red Cross Society, an appeal which met with particular interest, as several members of the class have sons who are more than likely to be called to the front.

The study hour was spent on an article on Bohemia from a recent National Geographical magazine. A pleasant social hour ended the afternoon, during which the hostess, assisted by her mother, and Mrs. L. J. Carden, served a very dainty repast.

Fine Musical Program
A very interesting musical program was presented yesterday at the meeting of the Music Section of the Ebell Society at the First Congregational church, the blind of the city being special guests.

After a short business session, the committee for the afternoon, Miss Preble Drake, Mrs. C. C. Langley and Mrs. Jesse Albright, took charge of the program, which consisted of charming Scottish folk songs and music. Mrs. Theo. Winbiger presided during the afternoon.

Praise to Orange County Artists
The California Art Club, which is now holding an exhibit in Los Angeles, has works done by well known Orange county artists, from Santa Ana and Laguna Beach.

The Los Angeles Times' art critic gives mention in glowing terms to the picture "Tranquility" by Frank Currier; "The Lure of the Road," a beautiful scene in Orange County Park by Miss Anna Hill; Miss Evelyn Nunn's "Evening," painted at Ranning and Gardner Symons' "New England Hills."

Miss Anna Hill, who is a promising young sculptress, has a bust of her father and several portraits of Ruskin. The article says of the bust that it is done with great tenderness.

At the West End
A good old-fashioned tarring and feathering was one of the many thrilling incidents in the Lasky-Paramount production, "Those Without Sin," which will be the attraction at the West End tonight and tomorrow with the beautiful Blanche Sweet in the stellar role.

Guy Oliver as a northern officer insults a southern girl and the hot-headed young southern men promptly capture, tar and feather him. As can be seen in the close-ups in the picture, there is no doubt as to the sincerity with which the young men at the studio who played the hot-headed young southern gentry administered the punishment to the offender.

PHYSICIAN AND FAMILY HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Lives of Dr. Robertson, Wife and Children Imperiled In Car Turn-over

The lives of Dr. H. M. Robertson and family were jeopardized Sunday afternoon by a careless automobile driver, whose carelessness sent their machine careening and ending in a turn over on the county highway in the Santa Ana canyon. Fortunately Dr. Robertson had checked the speed of the car when it upset. The car is a Ford Sedan and slight cuts and scratches sustained by any of the members of the family. Dr. Robertson had two fingers cut, his daughter Grace, suffered similar wounds and Mrs. Robertson sustained slight scratches.

The family left here Sunday afternoon for a drive to Riverside to visit a brother of the physician. They were speeding along merrily over the smooth county pavement near Alta Vista when the accident happened. A machine driven by a man from Cucamonga was standing off the road, with curtains on. The driver intended to move his car on to the highway, and just as Robertson's car was about to pass the machine it was started up and went on to the pavement just in time to strike the front wheels of the Ford Sedan. By good judgment and effort Dr. Robertson managed to keep his machine on the road and check its speed, and it turned over with a few feet of the edge of an embankment. The steering rods and axle were bent by the collision and made control of the machine difficult. Parties in the car causing the accident, and others in machines travelling through the canyon rendered assistance to the family and they were soon extricated from their wrecked car. Louise, one of the daughters, had in the meantime helped herself by opening one of the windows on the upper side of the overturned machine and climbing out.

A Ford mechanic from Anaheim happened along in a car and with the assistance of other men, straightened out the axle and steering rods sufficiently to permit the family to return home in its own machine.

HOME GUARD JOINED BY 26 AT ORANGE

ORANGE, April 17.—Applications are steadily coming in for membership in the Orange company of county home guard, an organization for military service.

Twenty-six applications have already been filed and this number does not include members of the Orange rifle company formed at the time of the Mexican crisis, the personnel of which will be transferred to the home guard company so far as possible. The home guard applications to date include a wide range of ages, the oldest being Elwood Coate, a Civil War veteran, aged 73, who is still ready to do what he can in defense of his country. Next oldest is D. T. Moore, another veteran of '65, who has applied for the position of drummer. Mr. Moore is 70 years old. The two youngest applicants are H. Conner Thompson and Delbert I. Danner, each aged 23, who are applying for home guard service, as neither is eligible for regular military service. Among the twenty-six applications there are nineteen who have automobile titles.

The complete list is as follows: F. L. Ainsworth, S. M. Craddock, F. A. Blake, A. S. Ralph, H. B. Slater, K. V. Wolf, Delbert Brunton, E. W. Camfield, C. O. Field, G. L. Bates, L. J. Danner, Elwood Coate, D. T. Moore, Charles Rozell, C. W. Post, Delbert I. Danner, Gustave C. Jost, C. A. Burton, William Faerber, E. L. Mount, C. W. Ritter, A. W. Fullerton, H. C. Thomas and G. E. Hart.

Wire Tells of Wife's Death
Returns Finds Boy In Anaheim Orphanage

Harry S. Sweetman of San Diego has gone into the superior court of this county seeking an order compelling St. Catherine's Orphanage of Anaheim to turn his son over to him.

The matter will come up for decision tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Sweetman's petition, filed by Attorneys S. M. Reinhaus and Scarborough & Forgy, states that in 1916 Sweetman and his wife and son lived at Palomar in this state. He says that he went to Salt Lake City to work for the Salt Lake railroad, leaving his wife with a supply of money. Fifteen days after arriving in Salt Lake he sent a letter to his wife and enclosed a money order for $50. The letter was returned to him after the money order had been taken out.

Evidently Sweetman took the return of the letter as an estrangement. There is nothing in the petition to show any further attempt at communication with his wife.

Last month Sweetman got a wire from his brother telling him that Mrs. Sweetman was dead. Sweetman came here at once. He found that some person, unknown to him, had placed his son in charge of the Sisters of St. Dominic. When he went to the St. Catherine's Orphanage at Anaheim he was allowed to see and talk to his son, but the sisters would not give possession. The orphanage management is ordered to bring the boy into court tomorrow, at which time the habeas corpus proceedings will determine whether or not Sweetman can have him.

Kern on Stand

Yesterday afternoon and this morning F. B. Kern occupied the stand in the trial of his damage suit against City Marshal Kellenberger. Kern asserted that Kellenberger, over Kern's protests, forced him into jail. He said that in falling, he dislocated a thumb. The evidence was along the same line as that given at the former trial of the case. Kern is asking for $15,000 damages. He was in jail for half an hour. Kellenberger charged him with disturbing the peace as the result of an altercation over a bicycle that Kern claimed and which Kellenberger did not think was sufficiently identified by Kern.

The defense won a material point yesterday when Judge West ruled with Attorneys H. C. Ames and A. E. Koepsel that the complaint of the plaintiff was faulty and that no evidence could be introduced to show that Kellenberger's act was malicious. That knocked out about $7500 of the damages asked by the plaintiff. Trial now concerns damages for alleged false imprisonment and battery.

ROOMS IN DISARRAY AS BURGLARS VISIT ORANGE RESIDENCE

ORANGE, April 17.—The home of Ben F. Dierker at 705 West Palmyra avenue was entered by burglars while the family was absent. A sum of about $4 in cash and a valuable gold watch and chain were stolen. The rooms were found considerably disarranged, but there were no clues to the burglars except footprints found outside the house. Officers are working on the case.

OWNERS OF PROPERTY IN MEXICO ORGANIZE

A permanent organization of Los Angeles and Orange county residents owning property in Mexico has been effected. At a meeting in Los Angeles, A. S. Bradford of Placentia was named temporary chairman and A. H. Foster of Los Angeles, secretary of the association.

Inasmuch as individuals have not been able to secure redress for injuries and losses or guarantees of protection for the future, to their satisfaction, it has been decided that through the organization of a large number of American property owners in Mexico sufficient pressure may be brought to secure results.

There are about seventy-five land owners enrolled with the association. It is estimated there are 500 persons residing in and near Los Angeles, who have interests in Mexico.

INTEREST IN OAKLAND PRIMARY OVERCAST BY WAR AND PATRIOTISM

OAKLAND, April 17.—War and patriotism have overshadowed interest in the primary elections which are being held in Oakland today, the trouble with Germany coming just at the time when the campaign was beginning to be interesting as immediately relegating it to the back seats. The voters are electing an auditor, nominating candidates for two seats on the council and for three school directorships.

What interest there is in the election is centered one or two contests, notably that for the seat of Councilman H. S. Anderson, in which the entrance of a woman, Miss Bessie J. Wood, has injected an element of uncertainty. The race for places on the school board has hinged around the pending selection of a successor to Superintendent of Schools A. C. Barker.

The authorities couldn't find out definitely so they refused to take any chances. Every curfew in England had its most done up in a muffler and there was nothing doing in the happy chimes.

Chertsey was spared hit by the order, inasmuch as the local curfew has been Krumbles is the whole of the wheat, thoroughly toasted, and has a delicious flavor.

CITY TRUSTEES

TALK MINIMUM AS MEANS FOR GETTING FINES

If City Recorder Lets Them Go What Can the Police Do About It?

Parton Street Paving Arouses the Usual Discussion At Council Meeting

At the meeting of the City Trustees last night the suggestion was made that a minimum fine be placed in the penalties provided in city ordinances for the regulation of traffic. The suggestion was made as a means of compelling the assessment of fines upon violators of city traffic rules.

The discussion arose when an ordinance was passed to compel automobile drivers to go slow when in the vicinity of any school in Santa Ana. The penalty clause set no minimum fine.

"What is interesting the police department right now," said Trustee J. W. Tubbs, who is police committee man of the city board, "is how to prevent violators of traffic rules from being turned loose without being fined."

At this point the conversation was taken up by City Attorney G. H. Scott, who was asked concerning a case in which the city recorder had assessed no fine when a man was brought in for driving an automobile without a brake.

"The court considered the offense too trivial for a fine," said the city attorney. "A provision fixing a minimum fine so that if a person were convicted there would be no way of going below the minimum would be advisable in some ways, but would work out injustices other ways. Sometimes there should be no fine."

The fact that the city had done away with the minimum fine for riding bicycles on sidewalks was mentioned.

For Pipeline
The trustees voted to enter into an arrangement with the S. A. V. I. Company for changing an open ditch on West Seventeenth street adjoining the Ross property into a pipe line, the city to pay half of the cost. The city's bill will not be over $105.

Specifications providing for an additional coat to be known as a sealing coat for rock and oil paving were adopted.

The petition of H. C. Burke for a change in the license for bowling alleys was referred to Tubbs and McPhee. Burke desires to run four alleys at 415 North Main. The present license would be $12 a month. City Attorney Scott said no other city knows of charges over $1 a month per alley.

Center of Street
Trustee Tubbs reported that he and

Give It When Feverish, Cross, Bilious, For Bad Breath or Sour Stomach

—Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomachache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

"You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless 'fruit laxative'; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid."

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Large Beach Townsite Has Assured Future

MAP OF HUNTINGTON BEACH, SHOWING ITS UNUSUAL LY LARGE AND HIGH TOWNSITE

It has 3 1/2 miles of bathing beach and extends inland nearly 5 miles, making an area of approximately 16 square miles for the available townsite.

Large and High Townsite Big Asset to Beach City

It is said that Huntington Beach possesses the greatest asset a beach city may have—a large and high townsite. Inland cities do not concern themselves a great deal about townsites for there is usually plenty of available land adjoining them suitable for building purposes. But beach cities can expand in only one direction, and as much of the land along the ocean is low and marshy, the beaches with large and high townsites have an asset which cannot be over estimated in value.

Small and low beach townsites seldom develop into "home cities" on account of the limited amount of land suitable for building sites and the danger from tides and floods. Such beaches must depend upon the summer pleasure-seekers and vast sums of money are often spent to retain the patronage of the fickle pleasure-loving public.

Large and high townsites, however, have all the qualifications of a "City of Homes"—plenty of room for development, safety from tides and floods, scenic view, and healthful climate, recognized as the most even in the world, on account of the tempering sea breezes.

It will be seen by the above map that Huntington Beach has a magnificent townsite—large enough for the accommodation of 100,000 people or more. It has 3 1/2 miles of bathing beach and extends inland for nearly five miles, making an area of approximately 16 square miles available for the city's development. The townsite is a table-land or mesa of long levels and gentle slopes from 30 to 130 feet above the water, providing beautiful marine and mountain views for the residents. Catalina Island, extending along the west for a distance of 40 miles, further enhances the beauty of the ocean view. The ocean front is a bluff 25 to 30 feet high and is therefore safe from the damaging tides and floods experienced at the other beaches.

That the next few years will mean much to the development of Huntington Beach is the opinion of those who understand the laws which govern the growth of beach cities. There is only one other similar bit of high land adjacent to Los Angeles, and that is now occupied by the city of Long Beach, which jumped from a population of 2000 in 1900 to 45,000 today. This great influx in population brought greatly increased property value and early investors made substantial profits.

Property at Huntington Beach is still at development prices although it is said to have larger public improvements today than Long Beach had only five years ago. Detailed information may be obtained free by addressing the Huntington Beach Company at 464 Ocean Avenue, Huntington Beach.—Adv.

McPhee as the board's committee had looked into the petitions for paving East Chestnut avenue and Maple street near the Roosevelt school, and had found that there is a controversy on.

"We favor letting the matter alone until the neighborhood row settles down," said Tubbs. "We favor asking the P. E. to put its tracks in the middle of Maple street, so that the street will be ready for paving when the property owners get together."

The city attorney was instructed to notify the P. E. to put its track in the center of the street. The petitions for paving were referred to the petitioners.

Balderston's Bond
George Balderston gave a bond of $500 as market master. His sureties are John D. Parsons and G. E. Norton. Charles Rosenmeyer gave a bond as a cement contractor.

The S. P. and Santa Fe were asked to do repair work at their crossings on East First street.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for 500 feet of nose for the fire department.

Employees of the Santa Ana post office were given permission to put up "no parking" signs near the south door of the post office. The request was made on the ground that oftentimes mail carts and mail machines cannot get near the door.

Parton Troubles
Parton street paving, from Hickey to Washington, had another inning last night. The Magill-Finley Company came in with 230 more names added to the petition, giving a total of 1151 signed for paving, 1025 non-resident and 1127 protesting. It was stated that of the latter about 350 feet was non-resident.

McPhee said the city should go slow with more paving. He thought the trustees should personally investigate every petition for paving. If a street needed paving it should be paved regardless of protest, and if it did not need paving it ought not be paved against a minority protest.

"Regardless of a public statement recently made," said McPhee, referring to the address of L. L. Shaw at the last Chamber of Commerce luncheon, "Santa Ana for its area has the best streets to be found in any city in Southern California. However, it is time to stop showing this paving. We should not harass our citizens."

Mayor Visel said he favored going slow, but when two-thirds of the frontage of property owners on a street asked for paving he thought the city should proceed.

The Parton petition was referred back for more signatures.

Special Police
McPhee moved that the City Trustees appoint C. L. Connors and H. L. Delmar as special police without pay. They are employees of the Edison Company at its sub-station here.

Tubbs said that all appointments of special police should go through the city marshal. City Attorney Scott said the marshal could appoint any person he pleases as a special police, and the City Trustees cannot prevent the appointment. While still of the opinion that the city board could make an appointment of a special police, McPhee withdrew his motion. A map of the Baum tract, six lots on Bristol between Fourth and Fifth streets, was accepted.

Change Army Base
City Marshal Jernigan reported that several business men in the Spurgeon building said that Salvation Army meetings Saturday nights block the sidewalk at Fourth and Spurgeon. These business men were willing to contribute to a collection for its meetings. The change was ordered.

J. A. Benjamin resigned as pound master, and Frank Adams was appointed in his place.

To Drill a Well
The water well committee, McPhee, Reid and Greenleaf, reported in favor of drilling a well on the Lincoln school grounds. The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids, to be opened May 7, for a 12-inch well not over 500 feet deep. It is proposed to pump directly from this well into the city mains.

A committee was appointed to make a recommendation as to a change of sidewalk to straighten out a slight jog in Orange avenue at Bishop street.

Street Superintendent O'Brien, McPhee and Tubbs were named as a committee to see Supervisor Struck in relation to some plan for taking care of Lincoln and East Santa Clara where the line between the city and county is in the middle of the street. It is proposed to better a bad 600 feet on East Santa Clara at the city limits.

Gas Water Heaters
The ordinance regulating the installation of water heaters using gas was given first reading, and was referred to the city attorney. This ordinance applies to no movable gas heaters and no stoves. McPhee asked for a provision that will do away with an inspection fee, by prohibiting the gas company from making a connection unless the heater is properly vented.

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD—TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folk call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoonful at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

RAISING OF FOOD FOR ANIMALS IS HELD PRESENT VITAL NEED

U. C. Savant Says Farmer Must Produce Meat, Eggs, Butter, Milk In Crisis

BERKELEY, April 17.—It is impossible to starve the American people. Where the pinch will come, however, is in meat and fats.

Such are the facts reported to the committee on resources and food supply of the California State Council of defense, of which President Benjamin I. Wheeler of the University of California is chairman, and the other members Charles H. Bentley and J. A. O'Connell of San Francisco, Miss Ethel Moore of Oakland and B. B. Meek of Oroville, after a preliminary discussion of the food problem made at the request of the committee by the agricultural faculty of the university.

Here is the advice as to how the patriotic farmers of the Pacific coast can best serve their country in the present war-time emergency, contained in a statement made to the committee on resources and food supply by Dean Thomas F. Hunt of the College of Agriculture of the University of California.

The farmer should produce as much meat, eggs, butter and milk as he can.

Need Food for Animals

What the public does not understand, and what most farmers do not realize is that the special emergency need now is to grow much greater quantities of forage crops as food for domestic animals. Such crops as milo, feterita, Egyptian corn, brown durra, sorghum and sudan grass should be planted extensively, for they give a maximum of result for a minimum effort.

Most of the current talk about the food problem has been about growing potatoes in the back yard or eating rice instead of potatoes. At a matter of fact, the opportunity for saving here is almost nothing. Potatoes and rice together do not cost more than 6 per cent of the annual expenditure of an average family for food while two-thirds of all the average Pacific coast family spends for food goes for animal foods—meat, eggs, milk, butter and fat. Hence the immense importance of producing the greatest possible quantity of fodder for animals.

The disease known as "fear of starvation" need never affect the United States. Indian cotton and corn make the country impenetrable.

Saving in Distribution

High prices to the producer are the most successful means of securing an abundant supply of food, and an abundant supply of food is more important than a cheap supply. Where saving to the public can be made, however, is in distribution. Never will it be necessary, Dean Hunt believes, to limit by legal or military action, the amount of food to be consumed by the American people, but military necessity may make it desirable to reduce greatly the service now rendered by the retailer.

Moreover, it may be desirable for the individual states to empower governments to take over and store food products and to issue certificates to be redeemable at the option of the state. Dean Hunt believes that it will be undesirable to attempt to control the production of foodstuffs by legal or military means but it may be well for towns of over 2000 inhabitants to legislate on food distribution.

Tells Balanced Ration

Dean Hunt warns against securing a poorly balanced ration as has been done in Germany, and says that the ration of five ought to be able to get along comfortably on an expenditure per annum of from $435 to $650, for foods—spending about 54 per cent on protein foods; about 12 per cent on fats; 12 per cent on starches; 13 per cent on fruits and vegetables and the balance on sugar, tea and coffee. These figures do not include dainties or extras.

Interplanting of bean and grain sorghums in young irrigated orchards is strongly recommended for this emergency. Every endeavor should be made to get all uncultivated land into condition to grow crops next year and the year after. It is suggested that possibly the states should assist in financing farmers who must wait two or more years for a return on such undertakings.

An Inside Bath. Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do. Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are "assured of pronounced results," both in regard to health and appearance.

RUB YOUR EYES

and get a clear vision of the possibilities of Fruit and Nut growing without irrigation in the Tempe-Paso Robles district—a swell place for a home—money making opportunities undreamed of a few years back, a combination of desirable conditions possessed by no other locality in the state, these are reasons why so many men from Orange county and other Southern California points are investing there.

10 acre lots, best orchard zone, near town, fine soil for almonds, walnuts, pears or prunes—all money makers—$90.00 to $175.00 per acre.

10 acre lots, young orchards just coming into bearing, $300.00 to $400.00 per acre.

Here are two good ones, combinations suitable for dairying, hog raising and fruit growing, 1/2 mile from high school.

30 acres, 1/2 in alfalfa, 1/2 in fine pear, prune or walnut land, $200.00 per acre.

43 acres adjoining and in the same combination and price, the alfalfa land owns electric pumping plant and modern cement pipe line system.

COMPETITION IN CONSTRUCTION AND NOT IN PRICES

Orange County Building Industries Assn. Organized For a Purpose

Competition in good work and not in prices is the purpose of the Orange County Building Industries Association, and that those individuals and firms holding membership in the organization are in thorough accord with that sentiment was evidenced in addresses at the monthly meeting of the association held last night at A. R. hall, with a banquet and speakers from Los Angeles as additional features.

The Los Angeles speakers were heads of building material firms and they passed the very highest compliments on the contractors of Santa Ana when they stated that their firms had never had to file a lien or force collection of bills incurred in the construction of buildings here.

In the after-dinner talks, co-operation was the theme, its benefits being extolled by each speaker.

For Better Construction

"We have organized in the interest of better construction and better value to the builder," said A. E. Bird, in speaking of the reasons the association had been brought into existence. "In our ambition in past years to 'do the other fellow' (competitor) we have taken contract jobs where the contractor did not make a wage equal to that paid his men, and in some instances at a loss to ourselves. We were cutting each others' throats. We harmed no one but ourselves. We have come to our senses. We believe that we are entitled to a fair profit for our work and by co-operation we can get this profit and at the same time give the private builder all he pays for. By doing this we can live like the average individual, educate and dress our children as well as our neighbors and buy a Ford."

Pay Their Bills

"We never have had trouble in Santa Ana, we never have had to file a lien and never have had to wait for our money, which indicates that the contractors of Santa Ana are a good, honest bunch and have not engaged in the cut-throat policy to the extent those of their calling in other cities have been practicing," said M. A. Berne, president of the Marble & Tile Company of Los Angeles.

Berne was introduced by Clyde Walker, president of the association, as the man with a hobby—different.

"I believe every material house should have a differential," continued Berne. "The man who sends the material house an order once or twice a week, or oftener, is entitled to a better price than the individual who gives an order once in his life-time. It is true, the differential is his hobby. The private builder who comes to the supply man for a price on a bill of goods should be charged from 15 to 20 per cent more than the contractor who gives orders as frequently as he has demand for such supplies."

Berne is a good story teller and he interspersed his talk with a number of witty Irish stories.

Fair Profits Legitimate

H. P. Potter of the Los Angeles Pressed Brick Company was called on to speak on co-operation, and made a splendid address on co-operative business methods.

"Co-operation in the securing of fair profits is legitimate," said Potter. "It is better for the contractor and it is better for the man who is building. The latter pays for what he gets and that is as it should be. Elimination of the cutthroat policy among men engaged in the same line of business gives each one an equal chance to survive and live as he should live. Co-operation of the material men with co-operative contractors reduces the former's chance for loss. The contractor who bids on a piece of work on the basis of a fair profit and not on the basis of figuring to get the job away from his competitor can always pay his material bills."

Future Santa Ana

"The future development of Santa Ana" was assigned to R. L. Bisby.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a no-moral action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Scat! I'm saving this for VELVET!

MOTHER NATURE Protects Your Tobacco IF You Smoke VELVET

She sees to it that Velvet's mellowness and aroma are not created by artificial methods, but by her very own. That is—

A complete natural curing for two years, during which time the tobacco remains, untouched, in its original wooden hogsheads. At the end of two years it is made into Velvet and is as smooth as its name implies.

Men have tried—and will try—to beat this method by quick curing or artificial processes, but Mother Nature's way—the Velvet way—remains the very best.

It costs us more money to prepare Velvet in this way—it will cost you only 10 cents to prove Velvet, at the first store you come to!

"The future of Santa Ana depends upon you gentlemen, as well as every other resident of the city," said Bisby. "Loyalty to your city is absolutely necessary to its development. A city is not built by individual effort but by the combined efforts of the citizens at large. All must have an interest as a whole. No city will grow if its citizens use that tool which the carpenters handle so much—the hammer. In looking into the future development of Santa Ana I see in my vision a splendid tourist hotel here, an auditorium, and many other things that tend to put the city on the map."

"Our development here so far has been due to the gradual increase in the value and production of the lands around Santa Ana. We have not yet cashed in on our location and the beauty of our scenery. Where is there a more attractive scenery than can be found on a trip to Orange County Park, on up the canyon to Modjeska's, back over the hills to El Toro, and on to our numerous pretty beach resorts?"

Values Uncashed

"Take the Lemon Heights section—God never made a prettier sight than this, where one can travel to the heights and look over the valley and the hills. These values have never been cashed in. They are for a city of 60,000. We are now a city of 15,000. We will have to wait. They are an asset that will be cashed in time, and when that time comes Santa Ana will take the position her natural wealth, beauty and equable climate entitles her to."

"There are two classes of people in every city—those who do things and those who do nothing. Santa Ana must build from the ground up, and it must be done by the man with the pail. We ought to have a belt line running from Santa Ana through Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton, Brea, Buena Park, Sunset Beach, Seal Beach, Huntington Beach, Newport and back to Santa Ana. Can we have it? I think so, if the people will go after it. It would bring people here to deal with our live merchants, and would mean a larger Santa Ana."

Boosting, Loyalty, Essential

"We have been developing the land around us. There is little left in the county that is not highly developed. Development of the city is the next step and it will come faster with boosting and loyalty of our home people."

Other speakers were A. B. Gardner, of the Pendleton Lumber Company; Verne Whitson, manager of the E. K. Wood Lumber Company; F. P. Nick, of the Nicky Hardware Company, and Clyde Walker, of the John McFadden Hardware Company.

The meeting was held at G. A. R. hall. The banquet was served in the banquet hall, with George W. Young as chef and that is sufficient to indicate that the "feed" was of some class. Baked spare ribs, mashed potatoes, brown gravy and a real salad were some of the features of the menu. Practically all of the building trades and many of the material firms were represented.

The evening closed with a nail-driving contest by men blindfolded, and other amusements.

TO MOBILIZE STUDENTS

CHICAGO, April 16.—Director Eggers of the Art Institute plans to mobilize 2300 students to paint posters, urging enlistments and boosting the back to the farm movement.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Princess

"Envy" is the story of a country girl who envied a famous actress, envied her position, her possessions, her apparent freedom from care. But the country girl seeking a life like that of the actress led, found that the life of a country girl was better, after all, and that she, instead of the great actress, was the one to be envied.

ANN MURDOCK, McClure Star

Miss Murdock has been too busy achieving things to pay attention to bright lights. She was born in New York and educated in Philadelphia. The great Charles Frohman, who went down with the Lusitania, discovered her six years ago. After three years' work in small parts she was promoted to stardom. Her success was immediate.

The call of the pictures finally lured her and she made three feature plays: "The Royal Family," "Captain Jinks of the Horse Marines" and "Where Love Is." In the films she triumphed as she had done on the stage.

In selecting the stars for the Seven Deadly Sins, Miss Murdock was chosen to play the first of the series. The other stars of the Seven Deadly Sins are Holbrook Blinn, Charlotte Walker, H. B. Warner, Nance O'Neil, Shirley Mason and George Le Guere. Miss Murdock, Miss Mason and Mr. Le Guere will be seen at the Princess Theater tomorrow, one day only.

"September Morn"

"September Morn," LeComte and Flesher's tangoized musical comedy sensation, the most brilliant offering of the season, is scheduled for an engagement at the Grand Opera House tomorrow night, with William Moore, Maud K. Williams, Valerie True, James Baber, Ruth Wilkins, J. Patton, Billy Murphy and forty-three helpers. The big beauty chorus is composed of the most attractive lot of girls that were ever gathered together in one company.

The production from a scenic and costuming standpoint is gorgeous. The dancing numbers embrace various styles of the famous modern dances which offer spicy moments of amusement and good wholesome entertainment. Many of these are new dance ensembles introduced for the first time in this country. It is bubbling over with song hits, including "Oh, You September Morn," the greatest ragtime hit in years.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Higher prices for many commodities were incorporated in the Los Angeles produce market yesterday and it looks from present indications as if new altitude records will be established for many years to come before another month has rolled around. Old crop stuff is just winding up and new crops will not begin to be felt in this market before another six weeks.

The best grades of potatoes are now bringing 6 cents a pound and all sizes of prunes were boosted another half cent a pound yesterday. Sugar wholesalers have advanced the price of the refined article 20 cents per hundred pounds, this applying to all grades. Meat packers have shot their prices for all products to new heights, although hogs and pork cuts appear to have advanced the highest. Beef is not far behind and veal is the easiest of all meats today.

Bananas are an excellent food at present prices, as the amount of nutriments that can be secured from the banana is far greater for the amount of money involved than many other popular fruits. In order to break the monopoly Monday local dealers lowered their prices on fresh peas to 4 1/2 and 5 cents a pound and a few dealers even offered the vegetable at 4 cents.

ANAHEIM TURNED OVER TO ELKS AS LODGE IS INSTALLED

Many Santa Ana 'Bills' Help Swell Huge Antlered Herd At Mother Colony

Tonight Anaheim will belong to the Elks of Southern California.

The "Baby" lodge, Number 1345, Anaheim, will be organized and from that time on Anaheim will be the meeting place for Elks from Anaheim, Buena Park, Olinda, Fullerton, Yorba Linda, Cypress, Brea, La Habra and other points in the northern part of Orange county.

Exalted Ruler H. G. Ames, with the assistance of the officers and members, is planning to give the visiting brethren something unheard of in the life of Elksdom as amusement. Although many items that will amuse the visitors have simmered through to the other members it is learned on good authority that something unusual will be let loose when the opportunity time arrives.

An Elk is a sociable creature but the Anaheim Elks had completed plans to show visitors and onlookers something more than usually good this afternoon and evening. To make it more interesting for the visitors some of the officers and members of Los Angeles lodge No. 99 brought along some of the best entertainers to be secured in Los Angeles and thus guaranteed a flow of mirth and joyfulness from the arrival of the first Elk visitor in town at noon today, until they leave tonight or Wednesday morning.

Wilbur W. Wasser, secretary of Santa Ana Lodge of Elks, 794, today stated his belief that approximately 300 local "Bills" would attend the Anaheim installation tonight. A mighty cavalcade of automobiles is scheduled to leave the Elks' building at 6:45 this evening for the Mother Colony. The fleet of motors will be met at the Anaheim city limits by a band, Wasser stated.

Many of the visitors to Anaheim will come by automobile but this is not the means of transportation that will be used for a number of the lodges. They realized that the state highway will only accommodate a certain amount of traffic and are coming in special trains. Los Angeles, San Pedro, Glendale, Long Beach and Santa Monica will come in a special. Another special will bring Pasadena and Alhambra while San Diego will possibly come up on the regular or charter a special.

The installation of the Anaheim lodge will mark another milestone in the life of Anaheim. The men and officers connected with the local lodge are fellows who do something. The Elks are a fraternal lodge and the many ways they assist the needy are well known everywhere. The organization of a lodge at Anaheim will, however, give them an opportunity to concentrate on the benefactions and thus Anaheim poor will be aided by them as of yore.

As a special honor to the visitors and people who will be in Anaheim tonight the merchants of Anaheim have been asked to leave their stores lighted during the evening. The decorations in the windows show that the Anaheim merchants co-operate heartily to show a solid front when items of advancement are planned.

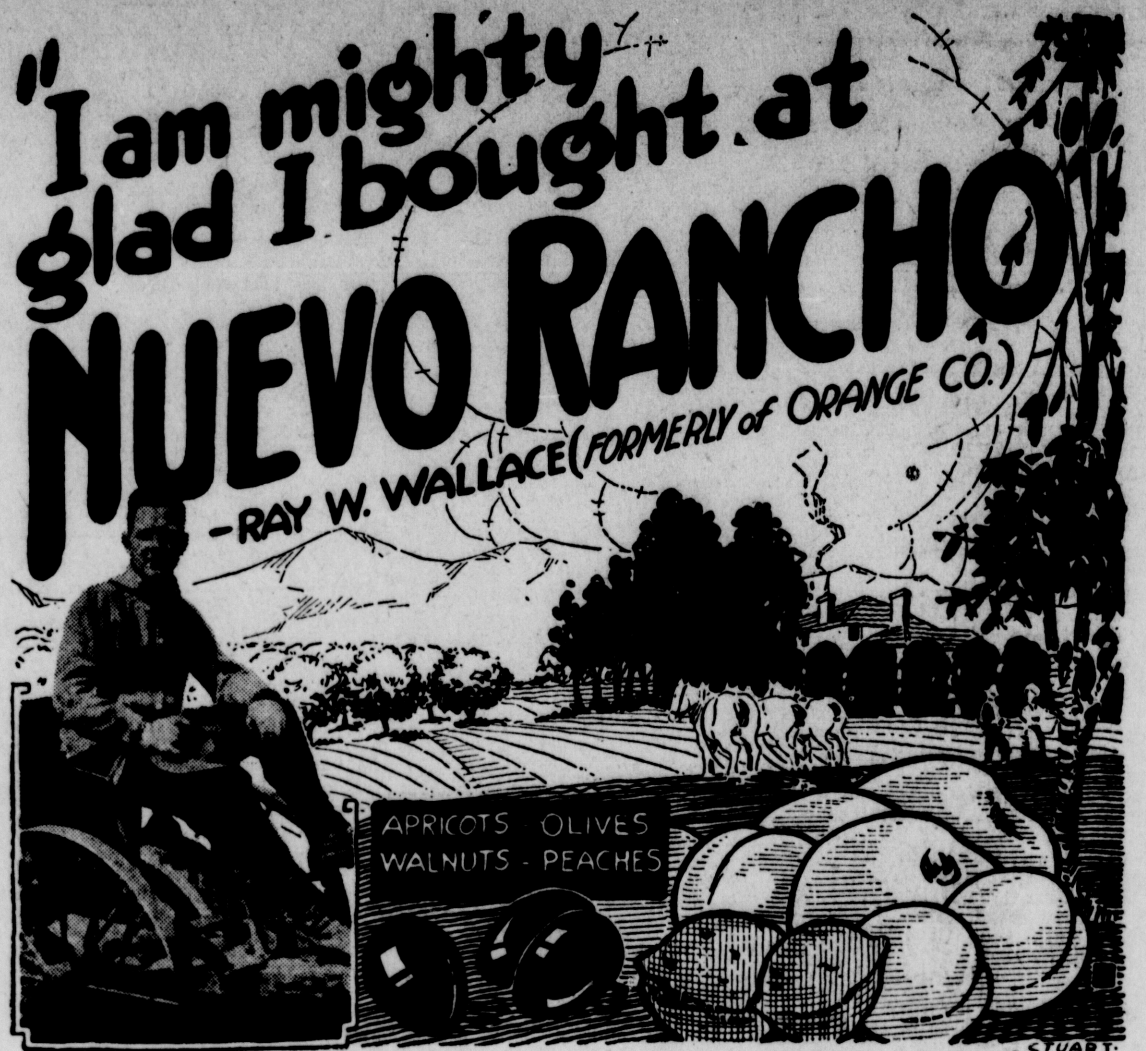

NATIONAL ELECTRIC LIGHT MEN TO MEET

The first convention of the recently organized Pacific Coast Section of the National Electric Light Association will assemble at Riverside April 19 for a three-days meeting. It will be attended by representatives of fifty-one electric light companies in the territory embraced by the states of California, Arizona, Nevada and New Mexico, and representing an invested capital of approximately $500,000,000, with a gross revenue during the year 1916 of approximately $50,000,000. In the territory mentioned there are seventy-three hydro-electric plants with an aggregate installed capacity of 600,000 horsepower and thirty-one steam plants with an aggregate installed capacity of 425,000 horsepower and with a connected load of approximately 2,000,000 horsepower. The population served approximates 4,000,000 people.

The companies which will be represented at this convention have constructed altogether 7,500 miles of high tension transmission lines and 25,000 miles of distribution lines, and are supplying electric current to 525,000 consumers. They have in their employ 15,000 people, representing an annual payroll of approximately $15,000,000, and during the year 1916 expended for material and supplies over $15,000,000.

Asked to define the purposes of the Pacific Coast Section, President Russell H. Ballard of Los Angeles, said: "Education and co-operation may be said to be the broad plans of the Pacific Coast Section. Education, not only of the men connected with the industry as employees, but of the officers of the companies as well. Adopting a common ground, the aims, policies and duties of the industry may be concretely placed before the public in such a way as to encourage a broader and more comprehensive knowledge of the value of the industry to the public and the public to the industry. Co-operation not only in methods of construction, commercialism, standardizing and efficiency, but in public relations, regulation and employees' welfare work."

Regular $500 Land at $250 an Acre

Nuevo Land Co.

Gentlemen:—I can truthfully say that land here at $250 per acre is every bit as good as most land in Southern California held at $800 to $1,000 per acre. If more farmers more thoroughly realized what we have here there would be a rush for this land. I bought here two years ago and am mighty glad I did. Our soil is as good as any man could want. Our water supply is abundant and is reasonable in price. I am well satisfied with the country. The social and educational advantages are good. I know of no better olive district in the state. Put me down as a booster. I came here from Orange County. (Signed) RAY W. WALLACE.

Brief Statements of Other Nuevo Ranchers

B. J. Mather, formerly of Ontario, Cal., who bought two years ago at Nuevo Ranch, says: "I positively believe that this district will be another Santa Clara Valley. I am here to stay and make money."

August Rohbacher says: "The State Horticulturist examined my olive grove last season and stated that he had never seen healthier olive trees anywhere. The development of this valley is simply wonderful."

R. M. Barnett received $1,041 for his four-acre potato crop at Nuevo Ranch last season. Mr. Barnett says: "This is the country for a young man. There's no doubt about the future of the valley. I came here from Santa Ana."

F. L. Detwiler says: "If farm land in Iowa is worth $250 an acre, land at Nuevo should be worth $750 an acre. You couldn't 'bull dog' me out of this country—I am here to stay."

B. F. Merrill says: "I believe the soil conditions at Nuevo are even better than in Orange County, where I came from. I am well satisfied here and I couldn't be hired to go back."

"My advice to ranchers who want regular $500 land at $250 per acre is to come to Nuevo Ranch." This is the statement of W. H. Grant, formerly of the El Monte district of San Gabriel Valley.

Carston Truelsen, the well-known nurseryman and fruit grower of Hemet, says: "There is no land in Southern California equal to Nuevo Ranch for the price."

Lemons Whiten and Beautify the Skin! Make Cheap Lotion

—The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen, and bring out the hidden roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful for rough, red hands.

Your druggist will sell three ounces of orchard white at little cost, and any grocer will supply the lemons.
